True or False ?

You can calculate the number of differences by subtracting one from the number of terms.

White Rose Maths