

True

If there is one term, there are no differences.

If there are two terms, there is one difference.

If there are three terms, there are two differences.

If there are four terms, there are three differences.

This pattern will continue.