

False

A mental strategy for this calculation may be more efficient than a calculator or written method by performing  $380 \times 100$  and then subtracting 380

Just because numbers are large, it doesn't mean calculations are necessarily too difficult to perform mentally.